The farmers of the west are deriving great advantages from the use of cooked food for their swine. The farmers who have adopted this plan have in a few years grown wealthy. They say that by feeding them with cooked meat they secure large frames for the animals before the corn hardens, which is a very important matter.

COLTS AND CALVES.

The season of cold autumn rains is rapidly approaching—a trying one to colts and calves. If these are left on during cold rains, as they too often are, they will rapidly fall away in flesh, arresting measurably their natural growth, and rendering wintering much less satisfactory than would be the case if properly sheltered earlier in the season. When you see them in the fields, with their rather extremities turned to the storm, and their bodies forming a curved line, you may be sure that they are suffering, and that their owner is careless of their comfort and of his own interest.

These young animals, especially at such times, should be carefully housed during autumnal storms and well fed, too, as these try them more severely than the later ones of snow in the winter. All stock should be housed at such times, but especially the younger portions.

SELECTING SEEDS.

Autumn is the most suitable season for selecting the best seeds of every kind.

Some of the most celebrated varieties of wheat, oats, barley, corn, &c., have been propagated from our selected at harvest time, for their extraordinary size, and other good qualities. The cost of preparing the soil thoroughly for wheat or any other crop, will be a needless expenditure if seed of inferior quality is sown. The largest, plumpest, and best colored seeds of the most approved varieties of grain should be selected for sowing. Winter wheat requires to be sown early, so that the plants will have struck deep into the soil before the rigors of winter commence. Seed which should not only be thoroughly cleaned from the seeds of weeds, but small grains should be taken out with a separator or suitable fanning mill. The selection of corn for seed should be made before the stalks are cut down, preference being given to the largest, best formed, and best ripened ears with the smallest cobs. Seeds of all kinds of cereals should be kept from damage by damp or heat.

OPERATION OF LIME AS A FERTILIZER.

The action of lime is two-fold: first, physical, and second, chemical. As a mechanical agent it opens stiff clays, rendering them friable, mellow and more easily worked; chemically, it acts upon the vegetable matter of the soil and sets free those stores of valuable substances which, without the action of this agent, must have remained inert and useless. It also enters directly into the composition of plants, and in many varieties forms a large proportion of the weight of their inorganic constituents. It

A negro has been elected to Congress in South Carolina, over that carpet-bag scamp Whitmore. We would see both in the arms of the devil before we would vote for either. Is this "radicalism"? Then make the most of it.

We are in the fog as to the Prussian and French war. At one time we hear of an armistice—of probable peace—and the next mail or telegram brings news that negotiations have been sent to the rulers of the South German States to come forward and witness the bombardment of Paris.

The Prussians still demand cession of territory from France as a preliminary to peace. France "can't see it," and thus wags the war.

Speaking of the surrender of Metz, the Courier des Etats Unis says:

"If unfortunately it is true, Bazaine—a name henceforth devoted to the execration of the generations—if Bazaine has dealt this blow—well, kill him! Let him be killed, not as a soldier but as a dog!"

LET US HAVE FACTORIES.

We are glad to hear that parties are contemplating the establishment of Tobacco Warehouses and Factories in this town. Let them come! it is right on the Rail Road, and in the midst of a Tobacco country. Let all the Manufacturers in the Country, remote from Rail Road facilities, pull up and locate here in Hillsborough. Labor is abundant and cheap here, while many houses suitable for manufacturing can be had. Lots, as "cheap as dirt" can be had on which Warehouses and Factories can be erected. Indeed, our neighbor POOTIE, who is an enterprising merchant, says he will give any man a lot who will erect a Factory or Warehouse on it. But there is no use in talking about Warehouses here until Factories spring up. And why half a dozen Factories are not existing here at this writing, is matter of astonishment.

DISTRICT CONVENTION.

Wm. Eaton, Chairman, has issued a call for the Delegates to the Convention to nominate a candidate for Congress to supply the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. R. B. Gilliam, to meet in Franklinton on Friday Nov. 11th.

It is hoped that there will be a full attendance of the Delegates from Orange appointed at the meeting held on the 7th of May last. Many can not attend let him induce some good man to go in his place.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

In connection with the above call we desire to present the name of Maj SEARON GALE, of Wake, a worthy son of the illustrious WESTON R. GALE, for many years the distinguished Editor of the Raleigh Register. Maj. GALE has never been an office-seeker, but, like his father, believed in the office seeking man. He is a gentleman whose moral character will compare with the best in the State and whose polished education classes him among the littérati of the age. He graduated with the highest distinction at the University of North Carolina some years ago, and has been content to live in private life.

The name of GALE will carry a tower of strength with it in the National House of Representatives, associated as it is with the memory of the National Intelligencer. We suggest the name of Maj. GALE to the consideration of the Franklinton Convention, not doubting that should he be its choice, the anti-radical banner will again wave in victory, and that in him North Carolina will have a Representative in Congress she may feel proud to own.

Work is the best politics.

It is never disappointed for office and never drinks champagne with leaders about the street corners or makes long winded harangues upon inverted rum barrels.

It is too busy plowing, or digging, or in its shirt sleeves working for bread—as do that!

Work never runs for an office. It just votes. Votes for kid gloved politicians who are too lazy in hot weather to knock a fly off their face. Votes for big talkers and noisy wranglers who in times of peace talk brave, and in times of real war are like puppy dogs that snarl and slink tailed away from the giant they bay.

This is what's the matter. Working men do the voting, and lazy loafers of political bread scavengers are doing all the talking and legislating.

Who are your best citizens? Who, the most modest and the hardest working men among you? It's the fighting soldier of Lee's army. And say gads! when you want to get up a nomination for some big office, you run like geese to the first trucking quack that makes a brave noise, and you vote for him with all your might and might for him too, if necessary, because he comes loud and shakes his fists! and acts like a wild man in the cage!—when the poor political mountebank was either a fine quartermaster during the hottest of the late war, or a member of Congress, or the Legislature, or a shifting, dodging, cotton bale hiding, innuendo asylum guarding, plantation overseeing, and consumptive, dropsical, near sighted, lame-in-the-leg, sprained-in-the-back, Saint Vitus dancing, ruptured, and ricketty poor devil.

Those are the men, mostly, that come out for office now, while the poor old soldier in his same old greasy jacket is doing his best to make him an honest living, and then don't make it. Maybe he wasn't smart for "going in?"

The Hillsborough Recorder says: The town of Hillsborough, situated on the North Carolina R. Road, is a splendid location for a Tobacco Market. Very few towns equal it. Apart from commanding the large quantity of tobacco raised in this county, its proximity to Greenville, Person, Caswell and Alamance would throw large quantities of the tobacco of these counties into the Hillsborough market, &c.

All that Hillsborough needs for the business (as a Tobacco Market) now is the tobacco and the people to buy and sell it. We have read a story of some town in Texas which this reminds us of. One of the inhabitants said "all the place needed was water and good society." Whereupon a stranger told him that a certain place, unmentionable to ears polite, enjoyed the same advantages.

We hope Norfolk was not the "unmentionable place" in that man's eye.

We have the tobacco in the Country, and some things can be done as well here as elsewhere. Why not?

MECHANICS make all Towns of note.—The want of Mechanics destroys the 'note.'

How to Kill a Town.—Let the Merchants crack their own heads by opposing Mechanics in the sale of wares, &c., the mechanics manufacture.

MOCKSVILLE, N. C., Oct. 18th, 1870.

Messrs. Editors: A short time since, it was my pleasure to read a copy of your excellent little paper. But I assure you, that pleasure was somewhat marred, when I observed in a communication from one of your correspondents, a reflection upon the community, of which it is my honor to be an humble member.

It appears that a short time ago your correspondent was passing through this section and had occasion to stop in our little village. In consequence of a previous promise, he feels called upon to give us a notice in your columns, which he does, by remarking that he abounds in "tipping shanks." I take this opportunity to contradict what he says. Instead of the five, as he states, there are only three; and they are connected with family groceries. Perhaps, your correspondent's judgment, by too frequently visiting them, had become so much perverted as to render him unable to count. This is the most charitable construction I can put upon his misstatement.

While upon the subject I will presume to ask of you an additional surrender of space, that your readers may know something of our people and county. Without intending to institute a comparison, I will venture the assertion, that in point of general intelligence, integrity, and morals, Davie has not a superior in the State. This is the general remark of all temporary visitors to our county. As is natural, it is the result of being possessed of superior advantages. Our soil is adapted to the successful cultivation of tobacco and all kinds of grain, especially the former, as our numerous factories show.

In the town of Mocksville we are peculiarly blessed with religious and educational advantages. We have five churches, and all well attended. In regard to our schools, they are entitled to something more than a passing notice. Besides the public, there are three other schools now in successful operation: two of them, conducted by ladies eminently qualified to teach, the other, by a gentleman, the mention of whose name, would be sufficient, I am sure, to preoccupied the minds of many of your readers, with his singular ability to discharge the duties of an instructor. I refer to Dr. Wilson, formerly of Caswell, and lately of Charlotte. At the urgent solicitation of our citizens, he has taken charge of the Mocksville Male Academy, and though having been with us but a short time, has a prosperous school. For some time he was the chosen associate of the Rev. Dr. A. Wilson of Melville, who often said of him, that as a competent teacher, and christian gentleman, he had no superior. We think from the evidence before us, the Dr. is deserving of this high compliment. His happy combination of the christian, gentleman, and scholar, together with his unassuming and affable manners, has served to endear him to the hearts of our people.

We congratulate ourselves upon the acquisition to our community of such a member. I hope, Sirs, by this effort, I will be instrumental in some degree of disarming the minds of your readers of the impression made by the misstatement of your correspondent.

To the Planters of Virginia and North Carolina.

PLANTERS' WAREHOUSE,
Danville, Oct. 12th, 1870.

The proprietors of the Planters' Warehouse take this method of expressing their thanks to their patrons of Virginia and North Carolina for their very liberal encouragement the past season.

The increased and growing trade in the Danville Tobacco Market is a subject of congratulation not only to the planter, but to the purchaser, and such as to induce many of the dealers to look to that source for a large proportion of their supplies. We have obtained as good, if not better, prices for Tobacco than any other market, and there is no reason why these prices cannot be sustained so long as there is any life in the trade. A desirable and available market, prompt payments, with every facility and accommodation extended, excuse us, therefore, if we think you cannot do any better than to "roll in" your Tobacco and try us again at the PLANTERS' WAREHOUSE, and see if by prompt and assiduous attention to "business in hand," courtesy, kindness, with a hearty welcome and a full clearance, we do not merit your confidence and patronage heretofore so liberally extended to us.

The success of the Planters' Warehouse since its establishment to the present time has been encouraging, and looking to the increased facilities and the growing trade of the Danville Tobacco Market, we have been induced to make an extension to our house, sixty by forty feet, (two stories), for the better accommodation and to expedite our business operations. Our house is always open and located in the central business part of the town, easy of access, with good wagon yard, thoroughly enclosed and safe from any outside interruptions, good stables for horses, a well of good water and a comfortable two story house for lodging. In short, our accommodations are as good, if not better, than any in the place. A sufficiency of hands to expedite the unloading and weighing of the Tobacco, and an auctioneer (Mr. JOHN C. NEAL) equal to any in the state for obtaining good prices. This is saying a good deal, but try us and we will give you the proof. With many of you we are not acquainted. Our business engagements are so confining that we cannot call upon you personally, but we hope for a more practical introduction at our business house in Danville. With our names you may be familiar; that of our father, T. D. NEAL, particularly, who was a pioneer in the Tobacco trade and founder of the warehouse system in Danville, a system acknowledged by all planters to have been of incalculable benefit to the producer, inasmuch as it has brought about an active competition for quality by an open display or exhibit of the Tobacco offered in market, thereby enhancing prices for the producer who aims to raise his Tobacco and who desires to obtain a price corresponding to the quality of his Tobacco.

Our charges being regulated by the Tobacco Association, have been recently revised, and a commission adopted instead of the old system of each parcel or pile. They are now as follows:
Commissions 2 1/2 %; Tax 1/2 % or 3 per cent.
Auctioneer's fee 10 cents, for each pile or parcel containing 100 lbs. or less—25 cts. if over. Receiving and weighing 10 cents per cwt.

We feel ENTITLED to a liberal share of the Tobacco TRADE, and mean to conduct the operations of our house, on a strict business principle, as not only to deserve, but to secure, in future, a large share of patronage. We remain, your friends and obedient servants,

SPECIAL NOTICE.

This Valuable Family Medicine has been widely and favorably known in our own and foreign countries for many years.

It has lost none of its good name by repeated trials, but continues to occupy a prominent position in every family medicine chest.

It is an Eminent and Internal Remedy. For Summer Complaint, or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is almost certain cure, and has without doubt, been more successful in curing the various kinds of CHOLERA than any other known remedy, or the most skillful physician. In India, Africa and China, where this dreadful disease is more or less prevalent, the Pain Killer is considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates, a sure remedy, and while it is a most efficient remedy for pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine, even in unskillful hands. Directions accompany each bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Price 25 cents a bottle, and $1 per bottle.

A Proclamation.

By His Excellency, the Governor of North Carolina.

Carolina.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

RALEIGH, Oct. 25, 1870.

WHEREAS a vacancy exists in the representation from this State in the Congress of the United States, caused by the resignation of the Hon. J. T. Derrance, a member of the House of Representatives from the 4th Congressional District, composed of the counties of Wake, Franklin, Granville, Orange, Johnston, Nash, Chatham and Warren; and by the death of the Hon. Robert B. Gilliam, who was chosen at the election in August last to fill the unexpired term of the said Derrance.

Now, therefore, I, W. W. Holden, Governor of the State of North Carolina, by virtue of authority vested in me by law, do hereby this my Proclamation, ordering an election to be held in the various counties composing said District, on SATURDAY, the 25th day of November, 1870, for the purpose of filling the unexpired term of the said J. T. Derrance, and for which purpose the voters of the District are directed. It is further ordered that said election be held in all respects in accordance with existing laws. In accordance with section 8, chapter 40, of the revised Code, the Sheriffs of the Counties composing the District will meet at Leesburg, in the county of Franklin, on Thursday the 1st day of December, for the purpose of comparing the polls and announcing the result.

Done at my City of Raleigh, this 25th day of October, 1870, and in the year of the Independence of the United States the ninety-sixth.

W. W. HOLDEN, Governor.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 2, 1870.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

THE CORN-SHOCKINGERS are all over we would thank you for some butter.

We were glad to meet with friend N. P. Pace, who displayed in the Court yard a large banner with the inscription "Pace's Warehouse, for the Talloest prices and best accommodations, Danville."

Planters need not take his say so for it; but all he asks is a trial to convince.

Not our people's fault.
One of the best merchants in Danville—in fact the most reliable of merchants in Virginia—is Mr. E. B. Estes. He is now selling his stock off at cost. Handkerchiefs such as we have paid 90 cents for we get from him at 25 cents. And towels we pay seven dollars a dozen for we get from him at $2.50. And the best and nicest Coffee Sugar at a shilling a pound. In short he is the prince of merchants and always keeps his stock full.

The Negro and his Old Mistress.
Let it no longer be said the negro is a monster brute without gratitude. Mrs. — is an old lady whose head is frost-bitten by 118 winters. She was well to do before the war. But when the "lost cause" went up it left her "poor indeed," and circumstances would have consigned her to the poor house but for a former servant who takes care of her. She still owns a piece of land which this negro works for her support, and as she lived too far off for him to attend to her conveniently he has built a cabin in his own yard and put her in it. His name is Isaac Shanklin, who is determined that though the relatives of his old mistress may neglect or forsake her in her old age and want, he will stand by her while life lasts. Such attachment of the slave to his old mistress is not uncommon in the South, and we hope no man professing a white skin, will fail to appreciate the kindness.

ALL RIGHT—If a man subscribes and pays for this paper six months and by oversight or by design (thinking he will continue his subscription,) we send him the paper for a longer period, it's all right and perfectly fair for him to continue to take it nearly a year and then come to town and instead of calling on us drop a note in the Post Office saying that his time was out "months ago and that we have been sending him the paper at our risk as he does not intend to pay for it! That's gentlemanly! but it would have been decidedly more so had you written this note five months earlier. Mr. J. W. McK. has our thanks—it gives us pleasure to erase from our book all such "patrons," and if we have any more of the same sort we hope they will not be six months letting us know it, as we value our paper too highly to throw it away on any such men.

Another six months subscriber writes from Oxford that he thinks his time is almost out—to stop it at the end of the time and let him know when he will try and pay up. He "likes the paper first rate" but is moving about from pillar to post and not able to pay for it. Poor fellow! Wonder if he hasn't landed in the poor-house as this? But let him pay up for six months and we'll make a present of three months subscription which is an excess of the time he was booked for.

Fire! Fire! Fire!!!
The tobacco factory of Maj. Bedford Vaughn, who lives near Stagville in the lower edge of this county, was burnt by an incendiary last Monday night. His loss is about six thousand dollars. They kindled the fire with a pile of shingles put under a shed in which there were 60 boxes of worked tobacco. Maj. Vaughn doesn't know an enemy in the world; and unless it be that someone wants to reduce him so as to make him rent out his large tracts of land, we cannot divine the malice of the deed. The Major was in Hillsboro attending court; but when his son and a young lady named Miss Lucy Latta first discovered the fire they ran towards it and the incendiaries dodged into a skirt of woods close by and popped three gun caps at them. No insurance.

Again we learn that Yancey Allen, near Bushy Fork, in Person County, had his dwelling house with all his furniture burnt up last Tuesday night. It was thought to be the work of an incendiary, so we hear.

A Puss in Court.
(From an Oxford Correspondent.)
An investigation in Oxford is going on before a probate Judge between the claims of Edwards and Lassiter for the State Senate. Mark Lanier Esq., represents Col. Edwards and Col. Hargrove is the lawyer for Mr. Lassiter. In a discussion to-day Mr. Lanier sprung some point when words passed between him and Hargrove, and the latter struck him several blows. Mr. Lanier is an old man some 60 years of age. Col. Hargrove is in his prime.

Maj. SMITH, President of the N. C. B. Road, has written to Gov. Graham, Paul C. Cameron and eighteen others of the most distinguished stockholders of the Road, asking their advice and opinion on leasing the Road. The Major is in favor of the private stockholders controlling the road.

VERY COMFORTING—A subscriber who promised us wood for the paper assured us a few days ago that the load of wood he had standing in the street was the third load he had brought to town for us and which he sold to someone before it reached us. At that very time we were in quest of wood and hadn't a stick. Nice treatment—very! Do it again.

The Border Fair.
(From our own Correspondent.)
The Border Fair was all right. Snow—the pilot—was at the Fair. He enjoyed himself splendidly.
There was a tournament. Three rings—Forty yards from the starting point and a hundred yards in the whole. The rings were thirty yards apart. Harry Wooding of Danville rode "old Job," an old war charger of the Danville Artillery, on whom the gallant Capt. Wooding was killed at Fredericksburg, and took the ring eight times in three rides. He crowned Miss Eleanor Robinson, a beautiful young queen of beauty native to Danville and who has been four times crowned at tournaments. They had a ball Thursday night. We danced a round—we did. An old man named Specks led the band. He played the fiddle in his shirt sleeves and "such a getting up stairs you never did see." One big fat girl in a blue dress danced up and down like she was churning milk and a chicken legged chap in black baggy pants and a long coat tail threw his heels in the air like he was kicking off a shoofly—and everything went as happy as a big sun flower.

THE NEEDLE WORK.
The embroidery and crocheting was the best we ever saw. Miss Ella Yates of Danville had some table mats and lamp mats elegantly crocheted with worsted. It took the premium. Miss Ella is a young lady in her teens.
The most ingenious thing we saw was a hair wreath of delicate beauty made entirely out of hair. A big rose in the middle surrounded by lilies and little rosebuds and beautiful leaves.

But the thing that took our eye was a counterpane made by an old fifty year lady out of

TWO LADIES RIDING HORSEBACK.
One hundred and sixty pieces all sewed together to make one quilt. And another counterpane made by the grandmother of Ex-Gov. Letcher who spun the cotton and wove the cloth and then embroidered it in tambour stitch.
Two ladies riding horseback. Their equestrianship Mrs. Wm. Henry Jones who lives near Danville rode first around a mile track; and she sat the horse beautifully and rode around as steady as a globe. Mrs. Jones rode first accompanied by the knight of the second "horse"—Mr. Hodnett. This lady labored under many disadvantages: in the first place she led off. In the second place she rode a strange prancing horse; and in the third place she had not backed a horse before in four years. Besides her weight must be over one hundred and sixty pounds, while that of her competitor was not more than a hundred and ten—if that. And she sat her horse, though she didn't race, fully as steady and gracefully as did her rival competitor. Mrs. Jones is the daughter of the late Col. Elisha Keen and she has been riding a horse ever since she was four years old. But you ought to have been there to have seen.

MRS. BENNETT RIDE.
She is from near Greensboro—a North Carolinian. She is of a slight and beautiful form and in her long black riding habit with a jaunty hat on her head and a dainty little riding whip in her hand she took her stand in front of the Judges and waited for her time next. When she was ready to mount two gentlemen approached her and proposed to bring her a box to mount on. She thanked them modestly and replied: "Never mind, gentlemen, I will attend to that."

A dark grey horse was then led to her splendidly caparisoned. She switched his forehead and he knelt down and she sprang on him as light as a feather. The successful knight—Harry Wooding—attended her around the track. The first half a mile she rode around leisurely; but the next half she bantered her escort for a race and then they had it—neck to neck. Here she came! her long hair to the breeze, and her splendid charger loping and flying like the wind, while her mistress sat her as a mermaid on a rolling wave. She was before; the crowd shouted huzzahs; and when she reached the Judges' stand and reined her steed up off her haunches—while her Sir Knight fled by full fifty yards past before he stopped his horse—the excitement knew no bounds. As she dashed recklessly around the track, her long hair streaming and the sparkle of excitement and daring in her face, she resembled a little angel that floats on wings more than anything else. The crowd bellowed and squealed and pawed the earth like mad cattle, and we looked for a torch light procession, or for Mrs. Bennett to be dragged around town in a carriage by human beings—so great was the furor of the crowd and so loud the hurrahs. She then challenged Capt. Berry Green—an old Cavalryman—for a mile heat, and she beat him to death. And then she made her grey steed stand straight up, lay down like dead, made her kiss her, and made her tell the age of her mistress by pawing her forehead. The mare pawed the ground twenty-six times.

WHO SHE IS.
Mrs. Bennett has been married only five months. Her husband taught her to ride years ago; and now she can beat him riding. Her maiden name was Littlepage. She calls the mare Lucy Neal. She has been training her four years; just took it up herself. This lady has gone down to the Richmond Fair; and she will stop at the Spotswood Hotel. She got the premium at Danville of a fifteen dollar gold head riding whip.

THE HOUSEKEEPERS DEPARTMENT.
In here there was bread and preserves and jelly exhibited. Several loaves of bread were shown. But the one loaf that was the most flaky and when pressed would rebound suited the committee of ladies the best—of whom Mrs. W. S. Patton is not undeserving of mention: for she is the best housewife and one of the most elegant of ladies we know of in the South—and this loaf of bread received the premium. The maker of it turned out to be Mrs. Asariah Walters who lives near Danville. There was also a jar of preserved peaches made by Mrs. W. T. Clark of Danville. As beautiful a specimen of preserving as we ever saw. It is a very difficult thing to preserve a peach so as to have it clear; but these were like crystal and as firm a preserve as could be made. Mrs. Bell of Danville, took the premium on apple preserves.

The largest and finest display of the weed was on exhibition.
John Harrison of Caswell took the 1st premium on coal cured yellow leaf.
Thomas Gravelly of Henry Co. Va., got 1st premium on blue cured yellow. Old Buncombe county was not far in the rear; for she came in for the 3rd premium. Hurra! for Buncombe.

THE STOCK.
The show of stock was slim. Our old friend Jesse Griffith of Caswell had the best horses we saw. He came in for his share of the premium. Chas. H. Mosely had six cows 2 yearlings and a large fine bull. Mosely is from Halifax Va. He disposed of all his cows. Four of them to McKinney, the premium one he sold to W. N. Shelton Esq. of Danville. Few hogs and sheep made up the balance.

Taking the whole fair in view it was a success. The attendance was very large. Now that Robt. H. Richardson of Rockingham is elected President we may expect a grand thing next year: for he is a wheel horse at everything he undertakes; his name is the emblem of success.

A Learned Traveler in Danville.
(From our own Correspondent.)

Mr. Levi Holbrook, a former citizen, returned to Danville the other day, after an absence in Europe of twenty months. Mr. Holbrook is quite a young man whose father is esteemed here as one of the oldest and best of the intelligent citizens in the place. This young man has ever had a desire for going over Europe and even after he had graduated he went to Cambridge, and for four years, he studied the modern languages; Spanish, German, French, and Italian. So in November, 1868 he went to Europe. In the twenty months he was gone he made a tour to Rome, Jerusalem, Greece, Italy and Germany. He went all over the Hecatombe and Pyramids of Egypt and accompanied by a single guide he made a pilgrimage to

MOUNT VESUVIUS.
Here the fog was so thick that Mr. Holbrook could hardly wend his way through it. Against the urgent remonstrances of his guide he persisted in going up the mountain and actually went to the top and looked over into the crater. There had not long before this been an eruption. Volumes of smoke were rising up and he put his hand over it and it was perfectly hot. He judged by the immense volume of smoke the Crater to be three quarters of a mile wide. He crossed over streams of lava that were then so hot that they burnt the soles of his boots. Mr. Holbrook also went to the

RED SEA.
And saw the spot where Moses and the Israelites are said to have crossed. The water was not very wide or deep; easy swimming. He went over in a kind of ferry boat. He also went to the sea of Galilee. And he also sailed by the place where Troy was said to have been. Mr. Holbrook wasn't much pleased with Athens. Apart from the climate being bad the people he describes as being very savage in their nature. In a good many of these pilgrimages of his he was not without danger or adventure. Once when his guide was some place behind him he was beset by three Arabs who demanded his money. Knowing that they stood in mortal dread of the Consul he told them he was a Consul and that his guide was behind him. But as they still demanded a surrender, he ran his hand in his pocket and pulled out a pistol which set them to flight. We have not had the pleasure of conversing with this gentleman himself but merely give these doctings given us by a friend who has seen him.

THE PLANTERS' WAREHOUSE.
We invite the attention of Planters to the card and statement of sales published in to-day's paper by this enterprising and popular House. John Neal is now one of the Neal Brothers at this Warehouse and he has right royal Auctioneer—has but few equals in the U. States. Mr. James Neal—a ship of the old block—and as generous as he is enterprising and industrious—is running this Warehouse. He is popular with all the Planters, and rarely fails to send his customers off delighted. His House is now becoming one of the popular institutions of the day, and we commend it to the patronage of our planters. Don't fail to read the card and sales in another column.

GRAVES' WAREHOUSE.
This House has been greatly enlarged and otherwise improved for the accommodation of both man and beast. Its dimensions are now 168 ft. 70 feet, with 19 Sky Lights. Capt. McDearman (the old fox-hunter), one of its clever managers, showed us the 5th sample new tobacco which took the $150 premium at the Border Fair, $100 of which the Graves' Warehouse paid. This was generous and enterprising. The Fair offered $50 for the best 5th sample, and this Warehouse backed it with an addition of $100. The premium was taken by Miss Maria Edwards and daughter of this State, who raised the tobacco without the aid of horse or plow, and who cut and cured the weed themselves. It was beautiful.

You will find no cleverer men in Danville than these running this Warehouse. And should you want a little sport in the shape of a fox hunt before day, Graves and McDearman can convince you that they not only excel in tall prices for tobacco, clever treatment, &c., but can beat creation in a fox chase—Charles Mosely, of Halifax, always excepted.

Thayer's Circus.
The high encomiums of the press bestowed upon this Company justifies us in expecting the best Circus that ever spread canvas in this town on Monday next. Of the merits of this Circus we are only able to speak from hearsay—when it shall have visited us and performed under our observation we will be better prepared to judge it.

We quote below from the Berkley Union—see what it says of Dr. Thayer—
Dr. James L. Thayer has earned a National reputation, and is known everywhere as the "Emperor of Showmen." Although he is in manager, yet he takes a personal interest in this Circus, and performs in the ring himself, and he guarantees a performance of superior excellence, and the greatest satisfaction to all. During the present week he has exhibited in Baltimore to large assemblies of people. The Baltimore American, of Wednesday, after the entertainment "when an impartial judgment could be formed, thus speaks of and compliments this Circus—
Dr. Thayer's promise that he would present to our citizens the best equestrian and acrobatic entertainment that has been witnessed in Baltimore in many years, was verified last night and attended by an overwhelming audience. The audience was a first-class one, and never before was a multitude so pleased as was the one last night. It would be useless to particularize the acts of the different performers, as all are first-class and entitled to the highest merit of praise. To use a professional phrase, the circus last night had a "good show off," and our citizens should not neglect to enjoy Dr. Thayer's excellent entertainments.

Don't forget the day of performance in Hillsboro—next Monday.
Good!—Mr. Jesse Hedgpath, of Nash county, aged 82 years, made fifty two barrels of corn and 500 pounds of cotton with his own hands this year. Can many of the young lunks of the day beat this?
"NOT A DREN WAS HEARD" &c.
Why is it that Hillsboro is behind other towns in rendering a tribute of respect to the memory of Gen. Lee? She is not usually behind time in holding political meetings and paying honors to leading politicians. Where are the men who surrendered at Appomattox? Let them hold a meeting and drop a tear on the grave of the greatest Chief that ever drew a sword.
